

YOU USE THEM TO INDICATE TIME, PLACE, BELONGING,

UNITA' 1 a - in - di - da - in - per

PREPOSITION OF PLACE

The preposition "A" is often equivalent of the English "in," "to" or "at".

"A" is used:

1. To talk about a location and tell where something is or where someone's going to.

ESEMPIO: SONO A SALONICCO - VADO A SALONICCO ("a" + town)

"IN" is used to indicate

1. State in a place.

Ti aspetto in macchina – I'm waiting for you in the car

2. Movement to a place, but only before countries and regions.

- Andremo in vacanza in Francia –

"Da"

The Italian preposition da means "From" or "To"

1. Movement from a place.

- Il treno è arrivato ora da Milano – The train just arrived from Milan

2. A movement towards a person.

- Nel pomeriggio vado da Marco – In the afternoon I'll go to Marco's place

"Per"

Per means "for", "by", "because of"

1. Movement to a place (where you pass through a place to reach your final destination).

- Vado a Parigi passando per Milano
-

PER = A REASON for something.

- Mi sono trasferito a Roma per lavoro – I moved to Rome because of my job

PREPOSITION OF TIME

“Da”

The Italian preposition da means “since”, “from”, “by”.

A past action that is still going on.

- Vivo a Roma dal 2003 – I’ve been living in Rome since 2003

“IN” is used to indicate

. A discussion about time (seasons and daily moments).

- Le foglie cadono in autunno

“Per”

Per indicates the Time duration (for an action that is already finished).

- Parliamo al telefono per ore – We talk on the phone for hours

<https://wordwall.net/it/resource/58085940/preposizioni-di-luogo-domande>

<https://wordwall.net/it/resource/23090924/le-preposizioni>